Course Description

"Globalization" course introduces the basic concepts and issues of Globalization phenomenon. This course is designed to be an introductory undergraduate class. It emphasizes the understanding of economic, cultural, political, and environmental issues that shape the world today as a result of globalization. It will focus on teaching students with information and interdisciplinary learning opportunities on the complex globalization phenomenon. It will challenge students to think about many of the controversies surrounding globalization and to promote an understanding of the trade-offs and dilemmas facing policy-makers. Students will write short essays that provide opportunities for expressing independent viewpoints and more in-depth study of issues related to the geography of globalization.

Since this is an online course, all the teaching materials including the final exam will be posted online. Students can finish this course off-campus as long as you can access the Internet.

By the end of the semester, students should be able to:

1. Understand how globalization works and the policy choices facing them and their societies.

Course Requirements and Grading

Tests and Assignments:

(20%) Course project: At the final week of this course, students will carry out a course project. This project will require you write a 5-6 page (Not including works cited page or graphics), double-spaced research paper. The project will offer you an opportunity to explore a globalization issue in detail.

(40%) Eight exercise assignments: All assignments are due at the specific time assigned. No late assignments will be accepted except in extraordinary circumstances.

(40%) Final Exam: The exam format may include multiple choices, true or false and short answer. Student access to the exam will be restricted by day and hour. The exam will also be timed, and the amount of time taken by each student will be recorded. Student will be kicked out of the exam when their time expires. All exams will be open-book and open-notes. The exams cover the lecture notes, assigned reading, and assigned exercises. A make-up exam will be scheduled only in the event of personal illness or extraordinary circumstances. Anyone who will miss an exam must notify the instructor in advance of the exam date. The exam questions are designed to test whether you understand the assignments, course notes and whether you are achieving the class objectives outlined above.

Your instructor and the university have a responsibility to promote academic honesty and integrity. You, as a student, are (1) responsible for the honest completion and representation of your work, (2) expected to respect the academic endeavors of others.

STUDENTS WITH SPECIAL NEEDS SHOULD INFORM THE INSTRUCTOR AS EARLY AS POSSIBLE.

Grading:

Students final course grade will be based on course project, 8 exercise assignments, and final exam:

a. Course project	200points	20%
b. 8 exercises	400points	40%
c. Final exam	400points	40%
Total:	1000 points	100%

Course final grades are based on a linear, percentage based system. That is, the final course score equals to the total points students earned divided by the total points available.

The following cutoffs will be used as a guide for assigning letter grades:

A:	93% - 100%
A-:	90% - 92%
B+:	87% - 89%
B:	83% - 86%
B-:	80% - 82%
